
AUTHORS' PROFILE

Abdul Munif Ashri, lahir di Ujung Pandang (Makassar) pada 27 Maret 1999, adalah akademisi Fakultas Hukum Universitas Hasanuddin (Unhas). Ia menuntaskan pendidikan Strata 1 dari Fakultas Hukum Universitas Unhas dan Magister Hukum dari Fakultas Hukum Universitas Gadjah Mada, Yogyakarta. Selama mengenyam pendidikan tinggi, kajian hukum internasional telah menjadi konsentrasi akademisnya. Di Fakultas Hukum UGM, ia berpartisipasi sebagai volunter di Pusat Kajian Konstitusi, Demokrasi, dan HAM (Pandekha) dan menjadi Associate Research Fellow pada Pusat Studi Hukum dan Keadilan Sosial (Law and Social Justice). Berbagai artikel ilmiahnya terkait isu hukum hak asasi manusia, hukum pidana internasional, dan keadilan transisi dapat disimak di berbagai jurnal nasional.

Alfian completed his undergraduate studies at Hasanuddin University Makassar and his master's degree at Hasanuddin University. The author has been a permanent lecturer at the Faculty of Law, Mulawarman University since 2019 with a focus on teaching and research in the constitutional law, natural resources, environment, and climate change studies. Participated in the Indonesian Sovereignty in Design (Kedaireka) program at Mulawarman University in collaboration with the Peat and Mangrove Restoration Agency (BRGM), the author currently actively participates in strengthening legal products for mangrove protection and rehabilitation in villages in the Mahakam Delta area, East Kalimantan. Some of the research and publications carried out include: Scaling Up Mangrove Ecosystem Management through Smart Sivofishery and Village Legal Institutions in the Mahakam Delta and the Nusantara Capital Region (2022), Justice Criticism of the Grand Design of the Development of the Nusantara Capital (2022), Scaling Up Mangrove Ecosystem Management through Smart Sivofishery and Village Legal Institutions in the Mahakam Delta and the Nusantara Capital Region (2022), Seeing Indonesia from East Kalimantan: An Invitation to Decolonize Environmental Justice (2022) and Legal Framework for Climate Change Action Plans for Mangrove Care Village (2022).

Aryo Subroto born in Buton 11 December, 1986, completed his undergraduate education at the Faculty of Law, University of Halu Oleo Kendari in 2010 and Masters in Law at the Postgraduate Program in Law at the Indonesian Muslim University Makassar in 2014. Since 2015 until now he has been working as a lecturer at the Faculty of Law, University of Mulawarman Samarinda and the subjects taught include Agrarian Law, Forestry Law, Customary Law, Corporate Crime and others that intersect with Agrarian Law. Some of the research and publications that have been carried out include: Completion of the Transfer of Community Land Rights for Mining Business Activities, The State's Role in Maintaining the Existence of Customary Law Communities, Mediation of Land Disputes: Between Ideality and Reality, Legal Problems of Local Community Land Tenure in the Capital City of the Archipelago and some time ago he participated in the Indonesian Sovereignty program in Creative Engineering (Kedaireka) at Mulawarman University in collaboration with the Peat and Mangrove Restoration Agency (BRGM).

Bidya Maharjan is a prominent leader in mental health initiatives in Nepal, having initiated and led various projects to improve mental health care. Her work includes a community rehabilitation project for individuals with psychosocial disabilities and the establishment of a model residential care home for older adults, particularly those facing mental health challenges. These efforts underscore the promising future of mental health initiatives in Nepal. In February 2018, Ms. Maharjan made significant contributions to the first-ever International Mental Health Conference in Nepal, which attracted nearly 2000 mental health practitioners and government officials from around the world. Her presentation on "Understanding Social Dimensions of Mental Health in Nepal: Situation, Demands, and Challenges" has greatly informed and enlightened the global mental health community. Ms. Maharjan's approach emphasizes collaboration and inclusivity, inviting diverse voices into the global dialogue on holistic mental health treatment. She has presented at both national and international conferences and contributed to numerous research publications. Her most recent work, "Participatory Mental Health Interventions in Low-Income and Middle-Income Countries: A Realist Review Protocol," was published in 2022 as part of a consortium collaboration with York University, UK, India, Nepal, and Zimbabwe for the British Medical Journal.

Grizelda was born in Tenggarong, East Kalimantan, January 16 1992. The author completed his Bachelor of Law education at Brawijaya University in 2013, then continued with a Master of Law study at Gadjah Mada University. In 2017, the writer's lecturer career began as an Extraordinary Lecturer at the University of 17 August 1945 Samarinda by teaching the Courses in Introduction to Law and International Law. In 2019 the author joined as a permanent lecturer at the Faculty of Law, Mulawarman University by teaching State Studies and International Law Subjects. The author actively writes for journals and proceedings. The author's recent writings include: Nusantara Capital Defense System and Asean Political-Security Community , Grand Design Of Legal Capacity Based On Green Economic For Mangrove Micro, Small And Medium Enterprises, International Health Regulation 2005 And Covid-19 Vaccination In Fulfilling Human Rights, and the East Kalimantan Provincial Action Plan Development Team for Persons with Disabilities.

Haris Retno Susmiyati is a Lecturer and researcher at the Faculty of Law, Mulawarman University since 2005. Education Bachelor of Law (S1) Graduated in 1999 and Master of Law (S2) Graduated in 2010 at the Faculty of Law, University of Brawijaya Malang; Law Doctoral Program (S3) Graduated in 2017 at the Faculty of Law, University of Hasanuddin Makassar. Research: Scaling up Mangrove Ecosystem Management through Smart Silvofishery and Village Legal Institutions in the Mahakam Delta and IKN, (Kedaireka, 2022); Gait Survey of Female Academics at Mulawarman University, (PuSHPA-FHUNMUL, 2022); Survey of Sexual Violence on the Mulawarman University Campus, (BEM-PuSHPA-Faculty of Law Unmul, 2022); Redesigning Mangrove Ecosystem Management in the Mahakam Delta Through Smart Aquaculture & Strengthening Village Law, (Kedaireka, 2021); Survey of Implementation of Fulfilling the Rights of Persons with Disabilities in East Kalimantan (PPDI Kaltim-DRF-PuSHPA FHUNMUL, 2021).

Heribertus Jaka Triyana, lahir di Sleman, 6 Februari 1976, adalah Pengajar Hukum Internasional di Fakultas Hukum Universitas Gadjah Mada (UGM), Yogyakarta. Ia menuntaskan pendidikan Strata 1 di Fakultas Hukum UGM, meraih gelar magister hukum (LL.M) di Melbourne University dan Master of Arts dari Rijk Universiteit Groningen, Belanda dan Ruhr University of Bochum, Jerman. Studi doktoral ia tuntaskan di Fakultas Hukum UGM pada 2015. Ia juga mengajar pada program Master on Human Rights and Democratization di Fakultas Ilmu Sosial dan Politik UGM. Beberapa karya akademisnya merentang dari artikel jurnal, bab buku, dan buku. Beberapa di antaranya seperti buku "Hukum Humaniter Internasional: Konteks dan Perspektif Indonesia" (Rajawali Press, 2015), artikel berjudul "National Wisdoms for the Creation of the ASEAN Human Rights Regime" di Udayana Law Journal (2017).

Isakh Oematan is currently serving his vicariate in the Evangelical Church in Timor with an interest in constructive theology and contextual theology. Currently, he is part of the volunteers and activists for interfaith dialogue of the Indonesian initiative for change, interfaith peacemaker youth of Yogyakarta, and intersectoral collaboration for indigenous religions (ICIR). Active in research and writing, several works have been published and presented both in the form of books, scientific journals, national and international proceedings and also freelance articles on online portals.

Somaly Kum is a research fellow based at CSHL and affiliated with RWI Cambodia. She holds a MA degree from the Asia-Pacific Master's Program in Human Rights and Democratization at the Project for the Establishment of the Institute of Human Rights and Peace Studies (Mahidol University of Thailand). She has experience in the transitional justice sector in Cambodia working in the outreach program, her research interest focuses on victim participation at the ECCC in collaboration with the Cambodia Programs of the Center for Human Rights and International Justice at Stanford University.

Wiwik Harjanti completed her undergraduate studies at Sebelas Maret University Surakarta and her master's degree at Gadjah Mada University. The author has been a permanent lecturer at the Faculty of Law, Mulawarman University since 2005 with a focus on teaching and research in the agrarian, natural resources, environment, and climate change studies. Participated in the Indonesian Sovereignty in Design (Kedaireka) program at Mulawarman University in collaboration with the Peat and Mangrove Restoration Agency (BRGM), the author currently actively participates in strengthening legal products for mangrove protection and rehabilitation in villages in the Mahakam Delta area, East Kalimantan. Some of the research and publications carried out include: Local Law Initiative for Protection of Mangroves in Mahakam Delta, East Kalimantan as a Climate Change Mitigation Effort (2022), Justice Criticism of the Grand Design of the Development of the Capital City of the Archipelago (2022), Scaling Up Mangrove Ecosystem Management through Smart Sivofishery and Village Legal Institutions in the Mahakam Delta and the Nusantara Capital Region (2022), Seeing Indonesia from East Kalimantan: An Invitation to Decolonize Environmental Justice (2022) and Legal Framework for Climate Change Action Plans for Mangrove Care Village (2022).